"NO ONE CAN PUT INTO WORDS SUCH SCENES OF DESOLATION AND RUIN"

President Wilson

President Wilson Visits Chateau Thierry and Rheims

Close of Tour Takes Him Thru a Dozen Small Villages

Return to Paris in Late Evening Sunday After. Tour by Train and Automobile

(By Associated Press)

Paris, January 26.—President Wilson today made his first trip to the front and devastated regions, visiting Chateau Thierry and Rheims. At the close of a tour that took him through dozens of razed villages, ending in the ruins of the historic cathedral at Rheims, he made this comment:

"No one can put into words the impressions I have received among such scenes of desolation and ruin."

That was Mr. Wilson's only expression of his feelings after a trip that every Frenchman has been hoping he would make before he takes part in deciding what is to be exacted from Germany for the devastated regions.

Accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Admiral Grayson and a very small party, Mr. Wilson left Paris early this morning, foregoing attendance at church and the rest which he felt he needed very much, to perform what he said he considered to be a duty.

The party motored first to Chateau Thierry where luncheon was taken on board a waiting train. The party then proceeded to Rheims passing through many ruined villages and along the old fighting lines where evidences of combat are still plainly seen.

After visiting Rheims the President and party abandoned their motor cars and boarding a special train returned to Paris, arriving there at 9:30 at night. The last part of the motor trip was made in a snow storm. It was the first snow President Wilson has seen since last winter.

BELLEAU WOOD

The first fighting ground was reached near Belleau Wood, where American troops did some of the heaviest fighting of the war.

Here the President saw the French people striving to reclaim their land from the ravages of war.

Officers related the story of the Belleau Wood battle in detail, then Mr. Wilson drove up the hill over which Americans drove back the German hordes and checked the drive to Paris. This was near Chateau Thierry which spot promises to become a mecca for Americans.

From here the President proceeded to Rheims, passing the old battle line between old wire entanglements. All the way there were American, French and German graves marking the roadway. Desecrated cemeteries were seen, too.

A light snow covered the ground at Rheims. The President was accorded a great welcome by the mayor and citizens.

Cardinal Lucon, Archbishop of Rheims, met the President and escorted him through the mass of ruins which once was the beautiful and famous Rheims cathedral. Here Mr. Wilson viewed the wrecked edifice of worship, the ruined works of art and sculpture, many of the famous paintings being completely demolished. The roof of the cathedral allowed an unobstructed view of the sky.

ALLIED FORCES IN ARCHANGEL SECTOR RETIRE

Evacuate Shengkursk and Shorten Lines Under the Bolshevik Pressure

(By Associated Press)

London, January 27.—Allied forces on the front south of Archangel, mainly American and Russian troops, have evacuated the town of Shengkursk under Bolshevik pressure and withdrawn to a shorter line north of the town, according to an official statement from the British war office today on operations in northern Russia.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

The following official statement was issued:

"The Bolsheviks have continued their pressure against the Shengkursk front. On January 22 and 23 they launched considerable forces in an attack after having bombarded the positions three days. Our forces, consisting of American and Russian troops, were first withdrawn to the defenses of Shengkursk to avoid being outflanked by superior numbers. Later the town was evacuated.

The Bolsheviks have apparently begun in earnest their threat to drive the allies into the White Sea by March. The situation, however, is well in hand and Russian troops are being added to the allied forces daily.

TERRITORIAL ADJUSTMENT AND RECONSTRUCTION OF GERMANY CONSIDERED

Full Attendance of Members at Great Peace Conference In Session This Morning.

RAPID PROGRESS SEEMS ASSURED

One French Diplomat Thinks Peace Agreement Will Be Ready to Be Submitted For Ratification By the Middle of March.

WASHINGTON, JANUARY 27.—(Associated Press)—The supreme council of the peace conference met at 10:30 today. There was a full attendance of the members. A number of technical advisers on colonial matters, including three Americans, accompanied the various delegations as they entered the foreign office for the day's session.

The "council of ten," as the French now call the ministers of the five great powers, has before it for consideration today in executive session among other things, the questions of territorial adjustments, the abolition of conscription and the economic reconstruction of Germany.

These questions will be referred by the council to suitable commissions.

There appears every prospect that the conference will make rapid progress from now on with the work of fixing the peace terms for Germany as the conference appears to have gotten into its stride.

A high French diplomatic authority is quoted as estimating that the conference will have the peace terms ready for submission for ratification by the various national governments between the middle and end of March. If this is accomplished the German delegates will be called early in April for conclusion of the peace.

PARIS, JANUARY 27.—(Associated Press)—The supreme council adjourned at 12:15 o'clock. President Wilson went at once to the American headquarters where he had a conference with Colonel House.

U-53 RAIDED U. S. SHIPPING ON ATLANTIC

Sent For Help After Discovering American Survivor Was Former Friend.

Washington, January 27.—(By Associated Press)—The American destroyer Jacob Jones, sunk off the Irish Coast by a German submarine Dec. 6, 1917, was torpedoed by the U-53, the vessel which visited Newport News, R. I., in the summer of 1916 and later harried allied merchant shipping off the New England coast. This fact was disclosed in the report of Lieutenant E. L. Muller and J. H. Fulcher, U. S. N., who were captured by the submarine U-152, which sunk the cargo transport Ticonderoga on September 20, 1918, and released when the German submarine flotilla was surrendered November 24, after they had spent nearly two months on the submersible in American waters and at the German submarine base at Kiel.

The report, made public by the navy department, showed also that the German officer commanding the U-53 when the Jones was destroyed, Captain von Schraeder, was aboard the boat when it was at Newport. He there say Lieutenant Commander David Worth Bagley, a nephew of the wife of Secretary Daniels, who commanded the Jacob Jones.

Von Schraeder told the captured American officers that he had recognized Bagley in the dory of the sinking destroyer and sent out a wireless call for aid before leaving the scene. A note appended in the report presumably by Vice Admiral Sims, said such a call was picked up at Queens-town, but that its origin had been a mystery.

The U-152, which after the sinking of the Ticonderoga and taking Muller and Fulcher aboard, continued to American waters to raid shipping, encountered the U-53 on her way back to Kiel, after all German submarines had been recalled near the end of the war.

Besides telling of the destruction of the Jacob Jones, Captain von Schraeder said that six weeks earlier in the Bristol Channel he had sunk an American escort ship, believed to have been the former coast guard cutter Tampa, which went down with all hands on board, and had fired a torpedo at the American scout cruiser Chester. The Tampa was sunk last September 25, and the navy department said there was no evidence that the U-53 was in the vicinity. The Chester was not hit.

The two American officers in their joint report to Admiral Sims told a detailed story of events during their stay on the U-152 and on the submarine mother ship Kronprinz Heinrich in Kiel harbor. They spoke also of their unique experience in being the only passengers, so far as known, to have traveled from Germany to Harwick, England, with the flotilla of enemy submarines surrendered two weeks after the signing of the armistice.

$500 REWARD IS CAUSING ACTIVITY

The $500 reward offered by The Orman Motor Company for the arrest and conviction of the thieves who, on November 14th, stole 34 new automobile tires from the firm, is causing a great deal of activity, not only among officials generally but among a great many citizens, who have clipped out a list of the numbers of the missing tires and are looking for the tires, knowing that if even one tire is located, it will be possible to find the two thieves responsible for the theft.

Chief of Police D. L. Moore, who received the numbers of the missing tires only a few days ago, has sent a list of all surrounding cities and towns in the hope of locating some of the missing property and revealing the identity of the thief, who must necessarily have been very familiar with the plant of the firm.

When the tires were stolen they were removed from a small frame stock room back of the main plant, it is announced, placed in the banquet room of the K. of P. building, and then issued through the side door of the building to a man who drove up in an automobile late in the night. The side door of the K. of P. building can be opened from the inside, but not from the outside, clearly indicating that two men were involved.

MANY NEW HOMES TO BE REQUIRED WITHOUT DELAY

Outlook Demands 50 to 100
New Homes Be Built In Washington This Year.

More Modern Homes Greatly in Demand at the Present Time.

Men in touch with local conditions at the present time are of the firm opinion that 50 to 100 new homes—perhaps more will be needed in this city as soon as they can be built, to meet the great demand that is opening for homes at this point.

And the demand is for a large number of these homes to be modern structures that will rent for from $20 to $30 per month, to be well located and ready for occupancy within the next six months.

Not only is the largest industry ever locating in Washington, now preparing to begin the active building of its plant, but other industries are knocking at the door of the city and there is good reason to believe that one or two of these will be in actual operation within the next three to six months, and that a great many additional employees will be needed, and these employees will require homes.

At the present time there are very few homes in the city that are vacant—probably the fewest in recent years, and there is every indication that a great many additional families will move into town as soon as they can find suitable homes.

The great demand is not for modest homes, but for modern and semi-modern homes, and to meet this demand, homes must be erected.

Some citizens, realizing the demand, are becoming active and are preparing to make plans for new buildings, which will either be for sale or rent.

A man stated Saturday that for five weeks he had been endeavoring to buy a modern home in this city, but up to that time had not succeeded. This clearly indicates the need, it is pointed out, that a great many new and modern residence properties must be constructed by those who can do so in order to keep pace with the demand.

Men in touch with local affairs declare the outlook for a prosperous and growing city were never brighter than at the present time, and that many persons who moved from this city to adjoining cities in order to engage in war work, are now anxious to come back as soon as work opens up and homes are available.

MAY REVISE MEDICAL PLAN

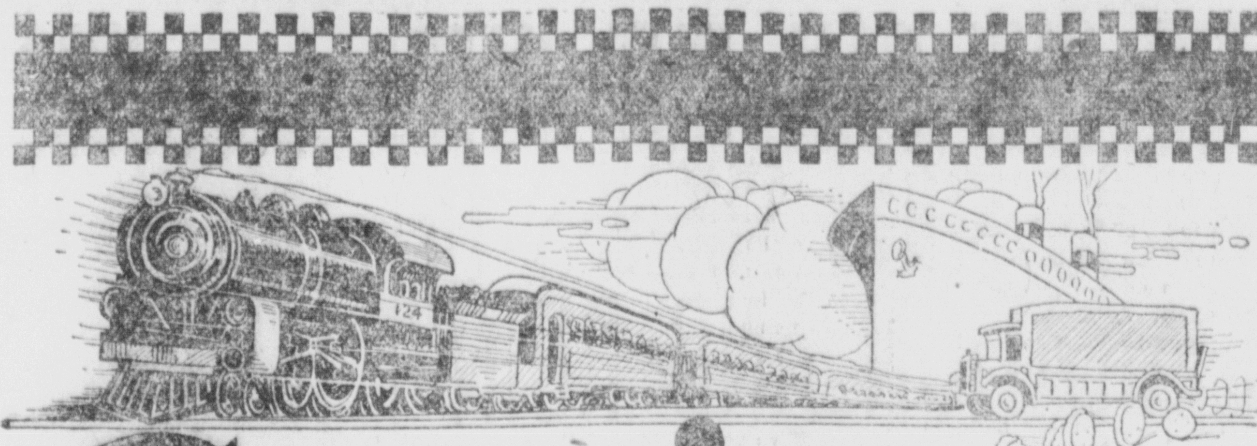

London, December 31.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Changes in England's system of medical service whereby the "panel" plan now applicable to the poor would be extended to all classes are proposed by a government committee. Many physicians are strongly opposing the proposals.

For a number of years, under a health insurance act, wage earners have been called upon to make a weekly payment to a fund which the government uses to provide medical attention for all classes of the population affected by the insurance law. Every practicing physician must treat a certain number of the so-called "panel" patients, receiving pay for this work from the government. The new scheme provides for whole-time medical service, and practitioners entering it are to be graded into five classes corresponding to military rank, ranging from lieutenant to colonel.

Class 1 would be paid $7,500 a year. Class 2 $5,000 and so on down to Class 5 which would pay $2,000. Examinations would be held for promotion to higher classes. Expenses incurred by the practitioner for drugs, appliances, clinics and traveling expenses would be paid by the government.

Each physician would be expected to look after between 2,000 and 3,000 patients. The higher classes of medical men would deal chiefly with administrative work and with the giving of consultative advice.

Eliciting the warm interest of a host of friends of the charming bride comes the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mazie Arehart, daughter, of Mrs. M. L. Arehart, to Dr. J. Watkins Fennel, physician and superintendent of the Hazelwood Sanitarium, Louisville, Ky., on Tuesday, January the twenty-first.

The bride has been the head nurse at this Sanitarium for sometime. Prior to that she was engaged in her profession at Phoenix Arizona, Fort Totten North Dakota and later in Government Service in Oklahoma, so that she has been away from Washington for the last six years or more.

Good wishes galore are evoked by the announcement.

Entertaining for her cunning little three year old nephew, Vert Collopy son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collopy, Mrs. Vert Backenstoe gave a most enjoyable dinner Sunday, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Collopy and Miss Mary Bonham.

A birthday cake with three pink candles was the special joy of the tiny tots who were seated with the little host. They were Lillian Cor, Catharine Collopy, Emmitt Backenstoe and Robert Hays.

Xenia is talking of a country club—a real up to date country club, with beautiful rolling grounds, golf links, tennis courts, a club house, containing dance hall, dining room, baths big veranda—even an artificial lake suitable for bathing and boating.

Presenting the project the Xenia Gazette says: "It may sound like a dream to staid and quiet Xenians yet that is but a few of the tentative plans, that have been talked of considerably in this city lately and which have reached the point where they have become a very plausible possibility. Interest in the affair is growing rapidly and financial assistance has been offered to promoters of the plan.

The need of such a place is poignant, Xenians who spend their summers here, are bound to go out of town for their amusements and recreation. This fact has done much to take the interest of many people from this city. Few of the many parks and clubs in other cities are satisfactory and it is believed that the founding of a country club here would be popular not only with Xenians but with people of the nearby cities.

Maude Adams, probably the most famous actress on the American stage today, has just recovered from a nervous breakdown, which at one time threatened to force her retirement from the stage. It is now said that she will shortly again be able to resume her profession.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Clemens, of Paint street entertained Sunday with a delightful dinner party in the honor of the 12th birthday of their son, Clifford. The out of town guests were Mrs. Mary Ellen Clemens of Wilmington and Miss Esther Coyner of Norwood, Ohio.

Fourteen little girls and boys spent the happiest kind of an afternoon Saturday at the Kerr home when Mrs. George Kerr gave an exceedingly pretty birthday party for her five year old daughter, Phyllis. Mrs. Josephine Kerr assisted and the children shouted in merry glee as they enjoyed a peanut hunt, pin the tail on the donkey, Paul Feagans prize winner, and played various games.

The fun reached the climax when each child was blindfolded and turned loose to hunt the strings of a big cobweb, at the end of which were gifts, tied with tissue paper and pink ribbon, for each child.

The little hostess, a rarely beautiful child, was the center of the group. She made an adorable picture wearing an exquisite frock of lace over pink silk, which had been sent to her from Paris by her father, Capt. George Kerr. Her happiness was completed when, together with numerous birthday gifts, she received a cablegram from her father, wishing her happy returns and saying he hoped to be home in eight weeks.

A tempting luncheon of delicacies children love was served. The table looked lovely lighted with pink candles a birthday cake with five pink tapers and pink cyclamen providing decoration and tiny pink and white favor baskets holding bonbons.

Your Opportunity to Become Interested in the Big Union Furnace Oil and Gas Field of Ohio

New developments now going on in the Big Union Furnace Field—almost at our threshold—make this the most reliable and promising oil investment opportunity in the world.

Huge fortunes have already been made by a large number of owners and operators in this field.

But, until now, the bulk of the profits from this vast and well-nigh unlimited deposit of oil and gas have gone to the big corporations who have operated in the Big Union Field. Among these are The Standard Oil Company, Logan Gas Company, Grosscup Oil Company, Ewing Oil Company, Kalkheimmer Oil Company, Ohio Cities Gas Company, Columbus Gas and Fuel Company and Ohio Fuel Supply Company.

Strong Company Formed

Now, however, through a fortunate turn of affairs, there has been freed a large tract of the best oil and gas-producing land in the Big Union Furnace Field.

The Cedar Falls Oil & Refining Company—now ready to produce—has come into the hands of a fine body of private investors, who, with a little outside help, are prepared to salvage from Nature's great store house the oil and gas which mean fortune to investors in this great, safe enterprise.

The Cedar Falls Oil & Refining Company—now owning leases on approximately 500 acres of this fine oil and gas land—in the heart of the Big Union Furnace Field—is made up of shrewd, able business men of the finest type.

Officers and Directors

W. N. Ferguson, President, is a natural business builder. He early identified himself with the financial and banking interests of his home state, Illinois. Mr. Ferguson is president of the LaFayette Hydraulic Gravel Co., a half-million dollar successful corporation in Indiana. He has been a respected resident of Columbus for more than four years, and is identified with a number of local business and civic organizations.

Herbert (Herb.) Hennick, Vice President, is head of one of Columbus' leading confectioneries—a man of undoubted business sagacity and probity; highly rated in business circles.

Jesse T. Wolfley, secretary, ranks as one of Columbus' foremost capitalists. He is treasurer of the Columbus Electric Works and identified with other progressive interests in and about the city.

S. H. Dunavan, Treasurer, is Secretary and Treasurer of the LaFayette Hydraulic Gravel Company, where he has added materially to the laurels he had already won in other successful business enterprises requiring a man of sound and forceful business attributes.

David W. Jones, Director, is one of Columbus' leading financiers. He is Vice President of the Elk Coal Company and Secretary and Treasurer of the Columbus Consumers' Supply Company, as well as director in other successful Columbus enterprises and a member of many civic and national organizations.

Small Investor's Chance

Never before has an Ohio Oil enterprise been started under such favorable auspices.

The Big Union Furnace Field has the enviable record of MANY BIG SUCCESSES—WITHOUT A SINGLE FAILURE.

During the past eleven years of its activity the Big Union Furnace Field has never been developed to anywhere near its maximum. This is a fact conceded by the best posted oil men.

Oil Already Struck

Already the Cedar Falls Oil & Refining Company has one fine well drilled on its properties, to a depth of 2430 feet, down into oil-producing (Clinton) sand. This well has tested up to 500,000 cubic feet of gas per day. Gas mains of The Ohio Fuel Supply Company have already been laid to this well, and as soon as this great volume of gas is released that company will begin paying to The Cedar Falls Oil & Refining Company a sum equal to approximately $50.00 per day.

In addition to this income, the well is figured by experts to produce 5 to 7 barrels of oil per day, of the finest Pennsylvania grade, worth nearly twice as much as the best oil produced in western fields—$4.00 per barrel.

Conservative Operation

For the construction of a small gasoline condensing plant—to secure this extra profit—for the drilling of other wells and to take up options on adjacent property where production has already been proved, a small amount of additional capital is required, at once.

You, Too, Can Profit

The public will be permitted to furnish this capital. The small stockholder is given an opportunity to participate in the big, sure profits that are bound to come to owners of stock in The Cedar Falls Oil & Refining Company.

Therefore, for a limited time, a limited amount of this promising stock is offered to you, on a most generous and attractive basis.

Common stock of The Cedar Falls Oil & Refining Company may be purchased at par value, $1.00 the share. And with each block of stock sold the subscriber receives an oil certificate, equal to 20c on the dollar. Thus his stock actually costs but 80c per share.

Passed Securities Test

The Cedar Falls Oil & Refining Company has been thoroughly investigated, and this stock issue approved by the Ohio Securities Department. (The Ohio Securities Department, however, in no wise recommends this or any other stock for sale.) It is Tax Free in Ohio.

For a few dollars you may have an interest in the world's most reliable, high-grade, high-priced oil-producing field. The field of all others which is noted for the stability of its production; where the dollars of profit continue to pile up and increase from year to year.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

LET US END AS WE BEGAN

The work of the Red Cross is all a work of love. It is needed now more than ever, when the full, terrible sum of the war's cost is being estimated in deaths and wounds and suffering and maiming, in blindness and lameness and weakness of every sort, in bitter loss and need in America, and in endless canteen and hospital service over there. Let us end the great war as we began it in generosity and love to the men that have spared us what England and France and Italy have endured for years. The organization of the Red Cross is perfect; there is no soldier beyond their reach, there is no crossroads village too small for them to find and help. From "The Spirit of Washington," by Kathleen Norris, in the February Red Cross Magazine.

THE GRAVES BESIDE THE ROAD

The war was over for them, even before Austria capitulated and Germany sued for peace—these men whose graves line the roads in Northern Italy. They fought the good fight, fought it through days of adversity, when, in common with their allies in arms in France, fortune seemed to frown on them—fought it to the moment when a shell or a bullet sounded for each war's last call. And their graves line the roads in Italy, from the Piave to the Tagliamento, and beyond.

During the early days of November American Red Cross trucks and camions and ambulances rushed over all these roads, carrying loads of food for the almost famished civil population. The Austrian army was routed! The Austrian army was surrendering! Austria was suing for peace—peace at the allies' terms! And everywhere along the roads the Red Cross cars passed the graves—the men to whom peace had come a long time before—the war graves—the clusters of graves with simple little wooden crosses, nestling together in the edges of untilled fields beside the roads—the graves had been filled to the edges of untilled fields beside the roads—the graves that had been filled to make this day of victory.

And during the succeeding days and weeks the Red Cross cars continued to churn through the dust or the mud or the snow over all these roads of Northern Italy. The Austrians had left no food. In simple truth they had none to leave. The country was practically destitute. Save for the supplies brought by the Red Cross the people had almost nothing to eat. And, on the heels of Austria's surrender came the German plea for an armistice; the cessation of hostilities on the western front in France. And the rows of graves in untilled fields besides the roads in Northern Italy, where the Red Cross cars went by, seemed to have an added sublimity, an added pathos. They called to the mind's eye pictures of other graves, from the North Sea to the Adriatic, in deserts and mountains and far corners of the earth. In the cities there was music and celebration and festivity, but the roads up in the north of Italy were cold and lonely and dreary. Only military outfits and refugees and returning prisoners were passing—and constant lines of trucks carrying food and clothing. There was suffering and hunger—but relief was being given. Still there were hardships—but the guns were silent. The war was over and right had won! And the Red Cross men saluted as they passed the lonely graves on the remote roads up in Northern Italy—the graves that with the others from the North Sea to the Adriatic gave the victory.

Judge Kinkead's Decision

The order increasing telephone toll charges will not become effective in Ohio, at least not until the temporary injunction awarded by Judge Kinkead, on the application of Attorney General Price, is modified or reversed.

Judge Kinkead's decision forbidding the advance in toll rates has met with almost universal public approval. The people of the state who have patiently and uncomplainingly endured increased rates on railroads and other government controlled utilities and "put up" with vastly inferior service in addition, during war time, received with emphatic expressions of disapproval the order of Postmaster General Burleson boosting telephone toll charges.

From being just a common please judge of Franklin county, and a good one, according to reputation about whom few people in Ohio knew anything at all, Judge Kinkead has sprung, by awarding the injunction, into the front ranks of Buckeye state heroes.

There are many people who see, in the heretofore unheard of Franklin county Judge, real presidential timber. If Judge Kinkead's decision does not stand the test in the higher courts it assuredly is a popular decision.

It may not be finally declared a "legal" decision, but from the general approval it is receiving the indications are that it is "right."

Our Big Duty

With officials and public spirited individuals and public welfare organizations giving it their best thought and effort, the problem of placing the returned soldiers in the business and industrial life of the nation, starting them on their way to become useful and happy citizens, putting them back again on the same paths which promised so much to them when war's alarms interrupted their dreams and plans, is going to be a serious one.

The problem is going to demand our most earnest and our most patriotic effort. It will take time and patience and firmness to bring realization of the change in his condition to the discharged soldier.

The American soldier was made to see, to understand and to appreciate when he was asked to step out of the pathway he had marked out for himself, abandon all his plans, say good-bye to his hopes and ambitions and begin a new career.

The American soldier was schooled in his duty. He entered the service understandingly. The need for the soldier in the service was urgent and the government and the people taught him.

The need is now just as urgent to teach him he must return to civilian life, that his nation demands his services in the peaceful pursuits of life. He must be brought to an understanding.

The greatest difficulty is going to be to get the people and the government as interested in educating the returning soldier back to peace and industry as they were in educating him into war.

We can't just lay down a blue print plan of life for the returning soldier and say there it is—it's good—follow it and you'll be happy. We must educate him at the same time, sincerely and tirelessly—get his mental viewpoint back to normal.

The British Navy Again

Again the British navy has come in pretty handy. Last week the Bolshevik forces were advancing on Riga with the avowed determination of looting the city, destroying it as a military base and also plundering the civilian population.

Their superiority in land forces seemed to insure the success of their mad project, but their vision was to short. It didn't carry out beyond the shore line into the Baltic Sea where a few British warships were stationed just to keep a watch on things generally.

The armistice had been signed, the German navy had been disposed of as a fighting unit, and most of the ships which composed it interned in England, but the vessels must be stationed somewhere, and usually Great Britain has stationed these vessels where there was a possibility that they would be needed.

Like other would-be despots have, in the last two or three centuries, embarking on a tour of conquest and robbery, the Bolsheviks found the British warships hemming them in.

This time after plans had been carefully made by the Bolsheviks the British ships stationed in the Baltic notified them that Riga laid under the guns of the British warships and they had best stay back out of range.

They did. Pretty handy—that British navy.

POEM FOR TODAY

O FOR A BOOK!

"O for a book and a shady nook!"
You recollect the rhymes,
Written how many years ago
In placid, happier times?
Today no shady nooks are ours
With half the world at strife
And dark ambition laying waste
The pleasant things of life;
But still the cry for books is heard
For solace of the magic word.

"O for a book," the cry goes forth,
"O for a book to read;
To soothe us in our weariness,
The laggard hours to speed!"
From countless hospitals it comes,
Where stricken soldiers lie,
Who gave their youth, who gave their strength,
Lest Liberty should die.
How small a favour to implore;
The books we've finished with—no more!

A book can have a thousand lives,
With each new reader, one;
A book should have a thousand lives
Before its course is run.
And we few kinder things can do,
Our gratitude to show,
Than give the freedom of our shelves
To those that need it so,
Nor let them ask without avail
The sweet beguilement of a tale.

COST TO SERBIA PLACED AT TEN BILLION FRANCS

One Half of Tax-payers and One Third of Her Population Perished Declares Serb

Geneva, Switzerland, January 25.—(By Associated Press)—Losses sustained by Serbia during the war are estimated by Milos Savic, member of the Central Committee for Serbian Reconstruction here, to aggregate 10,000,000,000 francs. This is exclusive of the war expenses incurred by Serbia and of the war loans which Serb received from the Allies.

M. Savic asserts that the present value of the Serbian property would be double what it was at the time of its destruction or 20,000,000,000 francs. "Serbia and Montenegro," declares M. Savic, "have suffered greater losses of lives, relatively speaking, than any of the other Allies. Serbia alone lost about 320,000 men up to the arrival in Confin in 1916. One-half of her tax paying citizens and one-third of her population perished from sickness, epidemic diseases and the unprecedented savagery of the enemy at the time of the invasion of 1914, and during the three years of domination of the Bulgars and Austro-Magyars.

"Our enemies sought not only to destroy Serbia economically but to exterminate her people, so as to rid themselves once and for all of the barrier which blocks Germany's way from Berlin to Bagdad.

"The restoration of Serbia will require a certain amount of time. The enemy must return everything he plundered from the Serbian museums, libraries, universities, churches and schools and whatever has been destroyed must be replaced. Germans, Austro-Magyars and Bulgars must return the livestock which they drove away and pay for the timber, vineyards and orchards which they cut down and ruined. Agricultural implements and industrial machinery must be replaced in kind. The Allies must supply us with food as quickly as possible, likewise with textiles, and medical stores, all of which are completely lacking in Serbia. Devastated towns and villages must be rebuilt. Banks, loan securities and savings banks must be supplied with money so that economic enterprise may be revived."

Estimating the damage inflicted on Serbia, Mr. Savic, who was former Serbian Minister of Public Works, places the value of one year's harvest in Serbia at 1,600,000,000 francs and adds that the enemy seized three harvests. The invaders destroyed 130,000 horses, 6,000,000 sheep and goats, 2,000,000 pigs, 1,300,000 cattle and more than 8,000,000 poultry. Manufactured goods to the value of 750,000,000 francs were carried away or destroyed, he says. Damage to private property, such as furniture, machinery, etc., he estimates at 400,000,000 francs. The enemy carried off from Serbia silver currency that amounted to 20,000,000 francs and jewelry of about the same value. Requisitions, enforced subscriptions to enemy war loans and damages sustained by private financial concerns are estimated at 800,000,000 francs. There are now about 100,000 disabled persons to be cared for and more than 150,000 orphans to be fed, clothed and educated. "Pensions," says M. Savic, "must be provided for the very large number of widows and orphans. Our Allies must compel the enemy to rebuild roads, the bridges, tunnels, railroads, and to return the shipping and rolling stock which was removed."

OHIO IS GIVEN BIG ROAD FUND

Washington, January 27.—(By Associated Press)—Senator Pomerene has just received a letter from C. F. Marvin, Acting Secretary of Agriculture, assuring him that Ohio is not to be slighted by the Federal Government in aid for road building. Acting Secretary Marvin writes as follows:

"Under the Federal aid road act of July 11, 1916, there has been apportioned to date to Ohio a total of $1,860,544.67.

"To January, 1919, 25 construction projects involving 148 miles of road had been approved at an estimated cost of $4,777,207.05, and on which there has been allotted $1,216,985.39 of Federal funds and Federal aid.

THE BUDGET

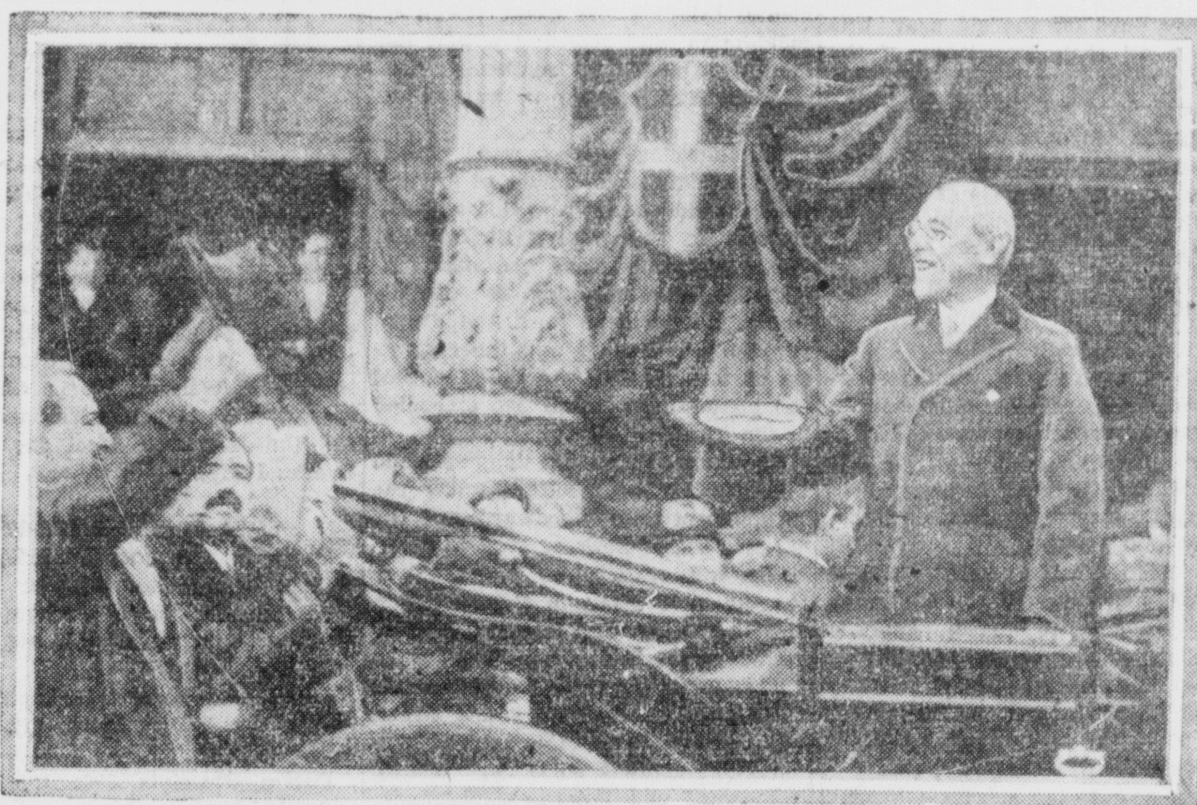

Does your 1919 household budget include "laundry expenses?" And if it does, does it designate how it shall be expended—the old, expensive method, or the new, modern, economical way of sending it to Larrimer's. Better think about this item, for it touches the home purse at least fifty-two times a year.

VAST AMOUNT OF PLOWING IS DONE

The open winter has resulted in a great amount of plowing being done in Fayette county, with the result that when the spring season opens up the farmers will have their work well in hand.

Indications are that the coming season will witness the planting of a great acreage in corn in Fayette county, as well as an unusual large acreage of oats.

Farmers also are preparing to sow probably more than a normal amount of clover seed this spring.

SPEECH MADE BY PRESIDENT OPENS THE WAY

Peace Conference Formally Decide to Form a League of Nations.

Clemenceau's Guiding Hand Quells First Gathering Storm

(By Associated Press)
Paris, January 27.—The peace conference on Saturday weathered its first storm, and under the inspiration of a speech by President Wilson and skillful guidance by M. Clemenceau, the chairman, unanimously adopted resolutions declaring for a league of nations. The conference also went on record in favor of incorporating the league as an integral part of the general treaty of peace and admitting to the league "every civilized nation which can be relied on to promote its objects."

Belgium, Serbia, Roumania, Portugal, Brazil, Siam, China and Czechoslovakia protested against the various committees being largely restricted to the great powers and asked for proportionate representation privileges particularly on bodies dealing with the league of nations, labor and reparation for war damages.

Although this was a cloud no bigger than a man's hand, it threatened at one time to grow into a general alignment of the small powers against the five great powers. This, however, was averted by M. Clemenceau's good tempered and skillful direction.

The session had the same impressive dignity as the open session, with a picturesque setting of Arabs and Indians in their turbans and tunics, as well as a distinguished array of prime ministers and other world figures. President Wilson, for the first time, was accompanied by the entire American delegation, Colonel House having recovered sufficiently from his illness to be present.

Although it had been expected that Premier Lloyd-George would open the discussion on the league of nations, President Wilson had this honor. The president was followed by Mr. Lloyd-George in a brief address, and the resolution favoring the league was adopted without dissent after the proposal had been seconded by Premier Orlando for Italy, Paul Hymans for Belgium and Mr. Lu for China.

When the other resolutions were brought up and the protests of the representatives of the small powers were made, M. Clemenceau made a plea for harmony, and on his assurance that the supreme council would give attention to the viewpoint of the small nations, all proposed amendments were withdrawn and the resolutions were adopted unanimously.

MILLERS ASKED TO ORDER WHEAT WITHOUT DELAY

Millers At Loss How To Meet New Demand Made By Grain Control Board Which Asks Millers To Requisition Wheat To Be Used Until Harvest.

Milling companies in this part of Ohio are understood to have received notification from the government grain commission that they are expected to make requisition not later than tonight, for the amount of wheat they expect to grind between now and harvest time, to be shipped to them from some point to be designated by the government agents, and to be either number one, two or three wheat, to be shipped in one lot or at various times, as found convenient to the department, and to be paid for in cash f. o. b. the point of shipment.

It is understood that some of the millers will decline to make their requisition as demanded because they regard the demand as unfair, and will, if necessary, close their plants during the interval rather than be compelled to purchase the wheat on the terms laid down. The terms, it is announced, include the provision that the price to be paid will be 12 cents per bushel in excess of the price paid by the government when it purchased the wheat last summer.

The time for making the requisition as demanded is said to expire tonight.

Millers all over the country are said to be awaiting with deep interest the outcome of the new method of disposing of government owned wheat.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD IN THIS CITY

The funeral services of Mrs. C. W. Hastings, who died at Springfield last Wednesday morning from dropsy, were held Saturday morning in the First Baptist Church of this city.

The body was brought over on the D. T. & I. train Saturday morning to be laid to rest in the Washington cemetery. A number of friends of the Hastings family in this city gathered deeply saddened, for the funeral services, conducted by Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington.

Two years ago Mr. Hastings and family moved from this city, where Mr. Hastings had been employed by The Washington Milling Company, to Springfield. Mrs. Hastings became a member of the local Baptist church under the pastorate of Rev. West and was much interested in the work of the church. She is survived by a husband, three children, one son Geo. W., two daughters, Grace M., and Mattie B., and four sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Clyde Kelley, of this city.

ARM SHATTERED SOLDIER RETURNS

With his left arm shattered by a machine gun bullet, while fighting with the 83rd Division in the Argonne Forest, Glenn Murphy returned to his home in this city over Sunday, for a brief visit before going back to Camp Sherman where he will remain in a hospital for several months, while undergoing treatment.

Murphy landed in France last summer after brief training at Camp Sherman, and was transferred to the 32nd Division which saw some of the hardest fighting of the war. He was in a machine gun company and it was while in the thick of the famous Argonne Forest action on the 9th of October that he sustained the wound, a machine gun ball striking him above the left wrist and fracturing the bone so that up to the present time he has not been able to use the hand, but with proper treatment expects soon to regain the use of the hand.

GIRL IS KILLED BY D. T. & I. TRAIN

The morning train on the D. T. & I. railroad, due in this city at 9:05 a. m., Monday morning struck a Ford machine at the High street crossing in Springfield killing a fourteen year old girl by the name of Agle, and probably fatally injuring the girl's father.

It is presumed that the man failed to see the approaching train. The train was nearly one hour late as the result of the tragedy.

RECOMMENDS THAT REAL ESTATE BE REAPPRAISED LATE IN 1919

Public Hearing On Proposed Re-appraisal To Be Held February 10th.

Last Appraisal Made Nine Years Ago Since Which Time Realty Has Taken Skyward Bound.

At the Monday session of the Fayette County Commissioners, County Auditor Glenn M. Pine recommended that the real estate of the county be reappraised during the fall of this year.

Attention was called to the fact that no re-appraisal of land had been made in Fayette county for a period of nine years, and that by next fall conditions would be largely normal and the price of the real estate at that time might well be regarded as not being abnormal or excessive, but something very near the real value of the property.

The County Commissioners set February 10th for a public hearing of the matter, and those wishing to be heard on the proposal will have an opportunity to do so at that time, and are expected to avail themselves of the opportunity.

At the present time the real estate valuation, which was fixed nine years ago and has not increased, regardless of vast increase in the price of land in that period, is $29,588,430, exclusive of the public utilities concerns of the county.

It is believed by many that the true value of Fayette county real estate now is many millions of dollars in excess of the total valuation now on the tax duplicates.

If reappraisal is made during the coming fall arrangements will be made for competent appraisers in all parts of the county, and the work will be done carefully and systematically.

MEDICAL MEN CEASE TO FIGHT

Columbus, Ohio, January 27.—(By Associated Press)—The medical profession of Ohio, represented by 4600 members of the Ohio State Medical Association, at a conference here yesterday voted by a substantial majority to discontinue opposition to a change in the state law providing that Christian Science healers may charge a fee for their services.

During legislative sessions for many years the Christian Science church has sought this legislation and the Ohio State Medical Association always has opposed it successfully. Bills are now pending in both house and senate permitting Christian Science healers to charge a fee for their treatment of the sick. Two years ago this question developed one of the most spectacular legislative battles of the session.

RED CROSS MAKES A FLYING VISIT TO LONELY ISLE

Kilchoman, island of Islay, December 25.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—This lonely little wind-swept island off the west coast of Scotland, scarcely more than a dot in the North Atlantic, today observed Christmas for the first time since as young men went off to war more than four years ago. And in the observance it did not forget to place flags and flowers on the graves of the American soldiers who lost their lives when the transport Tuscania was torpedoed early in 1917 and the transport Otranto went down after a collision last October.

The island people did not expect much of a Christmas, but Santa Claus went to them through the "Flying Squadron" of the American Red Cross in London, and his personal representative was Lieutenant James Jeffries, a New York business man who lives at Summit, N. J. The Christmas party brought to Islay half a dozen big packing cases. There were candy and toys for the children, pipes and tobacco for the old men, cigarettes for the soldier sons who were home for the holidays and comfortable things for the women. Pajamas, nightshirts, underwear and bed linen found their way into the boxes. Besides there were bundles of American and British silk flags to decorate the soldier graves and a plentiful supply for Memorial Day next May.

The distribution of gifts was made from the schools on the island.

Little Maggie McPhee, scarce 16, saw a soldier struggling in the water, and dashing into the surf pulled him ashore unharmed. The fact that she wore her best Sunday dress and that her heroism reduced it to a shapeseless ruin. Lieutenant Jeffries learned her plight, and today she was given a wonderful creation of green which had been selected with the utmost care by the women of the Red Cross.

Two dozen American safety razors with blades enough to last a year or two for each razor were given to the constabulary, who helped the stricken Americans. The pipes and tobacco, they were for the old men who brought all their knowledge of the sea into work of rescue. The candy and toys were for the children, who forming in procession placed the flowers and the flags on the soldiers' graves, and who because of their admiration for the Americans may be trusted. Lieutenant Jeffries felt, to carry out the same mission on next Memorial Day.

Matinee Each Day. One Show Each Evening

An Open Letter To The People of Washington C. H.:

D. W. GRIFFITH, of Los Angeles, California, has just completed arrangements with Chas. Johnson, of the Wonderland Theatre, whereby Washington C. H. is to be treated to one of the greatest events in the entire history of theatricals.

This will be the presentation here of Mr. Griffith's tremendous spectacle, "HEARTS OF THE WORLD," the production which required more than eighteen months in the making, and in which one million men and women and fifty thousand horses appear.

The engagement of "HEARTS OF THE WORLD" will begin on Monday evening, February 3rd and continue thereafter for a period of four days only.

Some Idea of the magnitude of Mr. Griffith's achievement may be gained from the fact that it was shown 528 times at the 44th Street Theatre and the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, and has been proclaimed by the most conservative critics a greater master work than Mr. Griffith's former triumph, "The Birth of a Nation."

"HEARTS OF THE WORLD" is an old fashioned play with a new fashioned theme, its delightful comedy and wholesome romance artistically blended with the greatest historical data of all time, wherein is shown all the important incidents in connection with the Victory of the American Forces in France and the places just visited by President Wilson—the greatest page in American History.

MEETINGS ATTAIN HIGH WATER MARK

With the church holding immense audiences, the evening attendance one of the largest on record, the Sunday services marked the high water mark of interest at the First Presbyterian church. Whether it was the inspiration of the magnificent audiences or the incentive of his great message, Rev. Faulconer delivered the two finest addresses of the series. Simple and clear in his statements, bringing the great theme of redemption with startling power, the minister held his audience both morning and evening in hushed attention.

The morning subject was "Drifting," heralding the danger of drifting with the tide away from God and salvation. In the evening the subject, "Regeneration," gave powerful insight into the meaning of Christ's words, "Ye Must be Born Again" and revealed the beauty and the simplicity of this re-birth into the things of the higher life as they are embodied in the love and service of Christ.

The choir, which has done splendid work during the meetings under the direction of Miss Woodward, and the efficient organ work of Mrs. Lillie G. Davis, were entitled to praise galore for the part taken in Sunday's services. The beautiful music was as inspirational as the spoken word.

The day's program included tenor solos of much tenderness and sweetness by Mr. F. L. McDonald of Wilmington; soprano solos by Misses Woodward and Roberta Stokesbury; quartet, Misses Woodward and Maxine Kibler, Messrs. R. R. Kibler and Rankin Paul; violin and cornet duets Miss Kessler and Mr. Harvey, together with organ solos by Mrs. Davis and violin obligatos by Miss Kessler. Rev. Faulconer will preach each night this week and there will be special music. The public is invited most cordially.

DOG WITH BROKEN LEG SHOWS WISDOM

Sunday morning the attention of a great many persons was attracted by a dog which had sustained a broken hind leg, and injury to the other rear leg, so that the only way that it could get about was to walk on its fore legs, which it did to the astonishment of everyone, balancing itself perfectly on its fore legs and moving about with considerable agility.

DUG IN WITH GENERAL IN NO MAN'S LAND

Wounded Yanks at Camp Sherman Give Experiences and All Praise Y. M. C. A.

(By Associated Press)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., January 27.—A trio of sergeants, each wearing gold chevrons on both arms and all from different divisions, and each with a world of experiences, have arrived from overseas service at Camp Sherman for muster out. They are Sergeant E. V. Arnold, of Cleveland, 58th Infantry; Sergeant P. H. Wolfstrom, of Findlay, 145th Infantry 37th Division (Ohio National Guard); and Sergeant C. R. Cox, of Columbus, Battery F, 17th Field Artillery.

All three sergeants sang the praises of the army Y. M. C. A. "They can all talk against the work of the Y. M. C. A.," said Sergeant Cox, "but I say that without it we could not possibly have kept our morale as we did had we not enjoyed the countless comforts that were provided us by Red Triangle workers."

Sergeant Wolfstrom had unique distinction for "digging in" with a general. He tells the story himself.

"It was every man for himself," he said. "The fighting around those Argonne woods was fierce. Something hit me on the head. The next thing I remember I was lying in a shell hole with a couple of trench spades in my hand, one of them a German spade which I suppose I must have grabbed from a Boche, although I don't remember anything about it. There was another fellow in the shell hole with me."

"Who are you?" the other fellow asked me.

"I'm Sergeant Wolfstrom," I replied. "Who are you?"

"I'm General Martin," was the answer that hit me about as hard as that Boche did when I got slammed over the head. There I was with the major general in a little old shell hole somewhere out in no-man's-land. And then he asked me for a spade so that he could dig himself in. And there we both were, the general digging himself in with a German spade while I tried to make myself less conspicuous to the enemy with my own little digger."

FIXES WAR ZONE
ALONG RAILROAD

Mexico City, January 25. — (Associated Press) — As a military measure to check the activity of bandits along the railway lines from the capital to Vera Cruz, General Candido Aguilar has ordered that a strip 100 meters wide on each side of the Mexican line from Vera Cruz to Esperanza be declared a zone of war. Natural hiding places in this zone will be destroyed and all inhabitants in the affected area will be forced to prove their pacifist tendencies. All persons other than inhabitants of the zone will be gathered in and examined by the military.

BRITISH ACTIVE
AFTER OLD TRADE

Mexico City, January 21. — (By Associated Press) — British merchants have begun their campaign to reconquer their old trade markets in Mexico and obtain new ones. The general offices of the National Railways have received notice that a freighter has sailed from Liverpool laden with British merchandise for Mexico. The voyage will be in the nature of an exploration. It is also announced that American companies are rushing plans to put into commission a number of steamers for service between Pacific coast ports of the United States and Mexico. Japanese interests are also preparing to establish lines with west coast Mexican ports.

List of Casuals Still in Overseas Hospitals on Way to Washington

(By Associated Press)

Washington, January 27.—An official report from General Pershing, made public last night by the war department, shows that on Jan. 9 there were 105,753 men of the American army in hospitals in France and England, of whom 72,642 were suffering from disease and 33,111 from wounds or other injuries.

The report said that the number of hospital cases is steadily decreasing, there having been a reduction of more than 15,000 since the previous week. Deaths during the week preceding that covered by the report numbered 561, of whom 280 died of disease and 281 of wounds received before the armistice was signed.

A complete and carefully checked list of men still in the hospitals in France and England who were wounded before hostilities ceased is now on its way by courier to the United States. It will furnish definite information as to the nature of the injuries suffered by each man.

The department also announced that cable advices from General Pershing indicated that the "long and tedious check of battle casualty reports has at length been completed by the central records office in France."

DEFECTIVE VISION
CAUSES A NUMBER OF TRUANCY CASES

Miss Green of the State Blind Commission spent the past week with Mrs. G. Bruce Franklin, Probation Officer, examining children's eyes.

It is claimed that one of the greatest preventives of delinquency is normality of body, and in Fayette county a dozen or more children reported for delinquency have not been able to see the blackboard in the school-room or have not been able to focus their eyes properly on the written or printed page. Naturally they have lost interest in school and have sought some other outlet for their energies. This in time, leads them to the juvenile court.

In a neighboring city last spring a boy was up before the juvenile judge three times and he contemplated sending him to Lancaster when a good woman in the town interested in delinquency asked the judge to try him once more. He did so and the boy was given a special medical examination. He was found to have but 34 per cent normal vision. Glasses were procured for the boy, and he was given no further trouble in the school or in court.

Through the kindness of Dr. Hughley the children who need eye examination and not able to pay for it, will have it done free of charge. There are still several cases in which the families are unable to pay for glasses.

Mrs. Franklin requests that any one who desires to help one of these children by purchasing glasses, to notify her at once.
